MENU BEVERAGES

TACO HACHI LIQUID COURAGE

27 FLOORS ABOVE THE STREET, ABOVE THE CITY, AND DEFINITELY ABOVE ANY BARTENDER WHO THINKS THEY KNOW WHAT THEY'RE DOING.

We built a bar where the sun bleeds gold over rooftops and dies dramatic every night. It's a stage. And you, hermano, just walked into the main act.

This isn't a menu for the so-called "cultured" cocktail nerds. We're not here to impress them. We're here to keep it real and keep the vibe alive.

We stole inspiration from the sunset skyline, the pulse of the city, the stories of travelers, and the thrill of the unexpected. Every glass carries that same energy — playful and sharp. Like a DESPERADO with a knife between its teeth sneaking across the border, or a RONIN — a samurai who wandered too far from home.

We're playing with mezcal, sake, oddball liqueurs, and flavors you might not dare to pronounce but will damn well want to taste. Olive sake. Yogurt liqueur. Spicy umeshu. Call them bad ideas, call them mistakes — just don't call them boring.

The menu? Fifteen cocktails. Some are borderline criminal ("HANG THE DJ" or "DANGEROUS SUZIE"). Some carry more ego than your Tinder date ("LEAVE ME ALONE" or "BETTER THAN YOU"). Every glass is either a punchline ("LOVE ME CUCUMBER"), an argument ("WHATEVER TREVOR"), or a bad decision ("HUG THE CACTUS") you'll thank yourself for later.

Forget "craft." Forget "balance." Up here, tradition got shoved off the balcony a long time ago. We're serving trouble in glasses. And the sunset's just here to watch you confess your sins.

So grab a glass, hermano. Tonight you drink like a cockroach that refuses to die.

Call it Mexico City with a skyline view. Call it Tokyo after the drift.
Or don't call it anything - just enjoy Bangkok and drink.

Either way, welcome to the rooftop. Don't look down.

Thanks for showing up.
